MEDICAL SURVEILLANCE

The Occupational Health Service Institute (OHSI) of The Great Lakes Centers for Occupational and Environmental Safety & Health of the University of Illinois at Chicago, School of Public Health is a leading provider of medical surveillance services to Chicago area employers.

OHSI offers comprehensive medical surveillance to maintain a healthy work force, to increase health awareness in the work place, while assuring compliance with OSHA Standards

Our physicians are board certified in occupational medicine with over 20 years of experience in providing services for the public and private sectors. Medical specialist and counseling assistance referral networks are available.

Our nurses are certified in spirometry and audiometry, and x-rays are evaluated by a certified B-reader. We have direct access to all resources of the University of Illinois at Chicago.

David C. Marder, MD, MPH is the Director of the Medical Surveillance Program and Director of the University Health Services. Dr. Marder is board certified in both Occupational and Internal Medicine. He is on the faculty of the School of Public Health Services.
